THE GREATEST INVENTION OF THE AGE

IS THE

COLD WATER

SELF-WASHING

SOAP.

No heating of water before you can commence to wash; no boiling your clothes after they are washed and filling the house with steam; no bluing required to make your clothes look nice and white; no washboard or machine required to remove the dirt and wear out your clothing. This Soap will do the work in one half the time, and do it better in Cold Water than any other Soap, with all the hot water and machines that can be used, and WITHOUT THE SLIGHTEST INJURY TO THE GARMENTS.

For washing Woolens, Prints, and any fabric where other soaps injure the colors, this leaves them clean and bright as new. For cleaning Jewelry, Silver and Plated Ware, Door Knobs, Paint, &c., by merely washing in the suds there is no equal to it.—Try it once, and you will use no other soap. Tell your Grocer that you want the Patent Cold Water Self-Washing Soap, made by R. E. Dwelly, 426 Eddy street, Providence, R. I., whose name will be on every bar and wrapper.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

WALTHAM

WATCHES.

The extensive use of these watches for the last fifteen years by Railway Conductors, Engineers and Expressmen, the most exacting of watch-wearers, has thoroughly demonstrated the strength, steadiness, durability and accuracy of the Waltham Watch. To satisfy that class in all these respects, is to decide the question as to the real value of these time-keepers.

More than 500,000 of these watches are now speaking for themselves in the pockets of the people —a proof and a guarantee of their superiority over all others.

The superior organization and great extent of the Company's Works at Waltham, enables them to produce watches at a price which renders competition futile, and those who buy any other watch merely pay from 25 to 50 per cent. more for their watches than is necessary.

These time-pieces combine every improvement that a long experience has proved of real practical use. Having had the refusal of nearly every invention in watch-making originating in this country or in Europe, only those were finally adopted which severe testing by the most skillful artisans in our works, and long use on the part of the public, demonstrated to be essential to correct and enduring time-keeping.

Among the many improvements we would particularize:

The invention and use of a centre-pinion of peculiar construction, to prevent damage to the train by the breakage of main springs, is original with the American Watch Company, who, having had the refusal of all other contrivances, adopted Fogg's patent pinion as being the best and faultless.

Hardened and tempered hair-springs, now universally admitted by Watchmakers to be the best, are used in all grades of Waltham Watches.

All Waltham Watches have dust proof caps, protecting the movement from dust, and lessening the necessity of the frequent cleaning necessary in other watches.

Our new patent stem-winder, or keyless watch, is already a decided success, and a great improvement on any stem-winding watch in the American market, and by far the cheapest watch of its quality now offered to the public. To those living in portions of the United States where Watchmakers do not abound, watches with the above-mentioned improvements which tend to ensure accuracy, cleanliness, durability and convenience, must prove invaluable.

The trademarks of the various styles made by the Company are as follows:

AMERICAN WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.

AM'N. WATCH CO., Waltham, Mass.

AMERICAN WATCH CO., Crescent St., Waltham, Mass.

APPLETON, TRACY & CO., Waltham, Mass.

The Last Call.

It was a very handsome house. A noble mansion, it was styled by those affecting the grandiloquent nomenclature of the day. Perfect in every appointment, attended to by a corps of well drilled servants, the young gentlemen who trooped up and down its broad stone steps might well be excused for envying the owner and coveting the daughter, who ultimately and in the course of nature was destined to be possessor of all.—And truly on her own account was Adele Lennox to be coveted. Tall, but graceful; dignified, but not of that awe inspiring mien which is demonstrated queenly; blonde, but not insipid; lively, but far from being gay; educated, but with no desire to be pedantic, Adele was of that class of womanhood in which the general ideal of female loveliness is fulfilled.

To say that her visitors were numerous on the first day of the year were superfluous. All classes and conditions of young men swelled her list, from the ambitious clerk in her father's banking house to the young man of fashion who aspired to French graces, and was, by virtue of the wealth of his parents, the grand catch of his set.

To one and all, Adele was cordial and genial.

There was a slight lull in the procession of visitors. Adele sank into a chair, yawning wearily.

"Is there nothing new under the sun?" she thought. "Nothing new under a fashionable hat? Oh, for a visit from an inhabitant of the moon, or Saturn, or even a stray merman, or old man of the sea. Anything but the monotonous line of tailors' blocks, with the same stupidity. I do not wonder that philosophers of old, tired of the monotony of human character made such dangerous experiments as raising the——"

A footfall on the carpet made her start.—Absorbed in her reverie, Adele had not heard a visitor enter. She rose to her feet. Truly a new variety of manhood was before her. Adele, for the first time, felt embarrassed. She tried to glance at the card given her by the servant, but there was a dimness before her eyes, and her hand trembled. Their eyes met, magnetically attracted. He had been scrutinizing her closely.

With an effort, she withdrew her eyes from his glance and noted his figure—tall, spare, lithe, an easy carriage; the manner of a man of the world; a high forehead, garlanded with a profusion of long, curling locks, white as driven snow; a face seamed by the furrows of over half a century; a mouth in whose every line determination and daring were marked; the nose of a hawk, and the glance of an eagle.

"Miss Lennox will be good enough to read what is written on the reverse side of the card."

The voice was subdued; and would have been pleasant were it not that there jarred in it a peculiar tone, which suggested that its possessor was more accustomed to threaten than beseech. Adele hastily turned the card; while, for some reason unknown her heart palpitated, and she seemed about to suffocate. She read:

"Whatever he says is true. God pity you and forgive me!"

"Your unhappy father, "W. L."

Adele read and reread this enigma. What could it mean? She turned the card, and read on its engraved face the inscription, "Col. Hardinge." Then, in despair, she looked steadily at her visitor, and demanded an explanation.

Colonel Hardinge was looking on smilingly. He seemed to enjoy the girl's astonishment and consternation. With a graceful bow, he answered Adele: "Most willingly, Miss Adele. You will allow me to call you Adele? There need be no formality between us, as you will soon admit."

"Sir!"

"I must be brief, Adele, since we are liable to be disturbed. Then, Adele, let me say that I am an old acquaintance of your father's—a business acquaintance, and, let me hope, a friend. You may not know that your father was not always the prosperous man he now is. Indeed, it has been my pleasure to assist him often when he was on the verge of bankruptcy. Some thirty years ago, of course, long before you were born, Adele, William Lennox wooed your mother Annette Marden."

"My mother!" exclaimed Adele.

"Precisely," bowed the Colonel.

"There were many suitors for Annette's hand. She was beautiful. (You are her image.) Mr. Marden was rich. She was an only child. Your grandfather discouraged the suit of the struggling merchant, though Annette preferred him to the three whom her father thought eligible on account of their wealth. Your father became desperate. He made a strong appeal to Mrs. Marden, and the answer your father received was to the effect that if he could prove himself worth a certain sum by a certain time Annette was to be his. Your father was overjoyed. He told me that at last fortune favored him. He had embarked in an enterprise that would make him master of the sum named before the expiration of the stated time. I advised caution, offered to lend him a considerable amount in case of accident. Your father, ever sanguine, thankfully declined. I left for Italy, but was to have returned before the day appointed. When I did return, the day had passed. The commercial enterprise had not then proved a complete success, but the matrimonial one had. Can you guess how?"

"No," faintly answered Adele, a vague terror stealing over her.

"Don't get alarmed, my dear young lady," said the Colonel, confidentially. "Such things are done every day. Your father, knowing that I was ever ready to accommodate him, and aware that my arrival was expected hourly, waited till he could wait no longer, and then he made use of my name, you understand? I need not enter into disagreeable details.

Adele started to her feet. The crimson tide of shame colored her cheek.

"Do you dare, sir, to insinuate that my father committed a forgery?"

"Hush, Adele! Here comes a visitor," sternly he added. "Compose yourself!"—Then in a change of voice, he continued, as a visitor was announced, "Most pleasant day this has been, miss. I almost persuade myself that I am young again. Ah, Loring" (to the new comer), "happy to meet you on this occasion. Many returns. Miss Lennox will excuse an old fellow for intercepting her guest's respects. We men of middle life forget our Chesterfield, ha! ha!"

Adele managed to recover her composure. The new comer was a middle aged merchant, a friend of her father's. After some general remarks Mr. Loring said, so you have returned for good, Colonel. Tired of foreign travel, I suppose?" (The Colonel nodded and smiled.) "Going to settle, I suppose?" (The Colonel smiled, and

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

SATURDAY, March 11, 1871.

Events of the Week.

AT HOME.

The Forty-first Congress has finished its work and gone home. The Forty second has taken its place in the legislative halls. Whether the session will be long or short, only a prophetic mind can tell.

The Senate have commenced their work by removing Mr. Sumner from the position at the head of foreign affairs, which he has held for twelve years, and substituting in his place Senator Cameron.

A large number of bills have been already introduced. Among which are several railroad and steamship subsidising bills. Also a bill for removing all legal and political disabilities from the people of the South.

In the House, Gen. Butler is actively at work in forwarding his Ku Klux bill. The Speaker objects to appointing any committees before the December session. An attempt was made Thursday to repeal the duty on coal and salt, but nothing was accomplished. The probability is Congress will adjourn before an issue is reached.

It is perhaps worthy of note that the new House contains one hundred and thirty-nine lawyers, twenty-one merchants, ten editors, nine farmers, seven bankers, six teachers, four manufacturers, three physicians and two clergymen.

The state of affairs at the South is constantly growing more and more fearful. Not a State but what is ruled wholly or in part by mob law, or rather we should say Ku Klux law.

The outlaws in South Carolina recently visited the office of the County Treasurer in York County, smashed up the furniture, and burnt the papers. The next day a negro was taken out of his house and murdered, and in another place a quantity of arms were destroyed. This is a sample of the reports that come to us from all over the South.

Impeachments don't seem to be successful experiments in this country. The rebel legislature of Arkansas have retired, unequal to the task of impeaching Gov. Clayton. Gov. Holden's impeachment is likely to turn out the same way.

Senator Revels is candidate for the Senatorship from Mississippi, made vacant by the resignation of Gov. Alcorn. He refuses, however, to go home to electioneer for himself. Such integrity surprises the politicians and they hardly know whether to consider him a sane man or not.

This action of Senator Revels, and the refusal of Gov. Austin to sign a bill passed by the Minnesota legislature, because it was passed by the aid of lobbyists, are deeds of honesty with which the legislators of this age have little acquaintance.

The New York legislature have had under consideration the subject of changing the time of their elections to the first Wednesday in October in each year, hoping thus to avoid the watchful eye of Government, in restraining fraudulent votes. We are prepared to expect anything from the law-makers of that State. The General Assembly at Albany has become the very synonoum of corruption. The New Jersey legislature on Wednesday passed a law restraining bribery at elections. Surely no State was more in need of such a law.

The trouble in the coal districts still continues. Congress having failed to abolish the duty on coal, the miners and operators feel comparatively free to carry on their war to any length. The Workingmen's Benevolent Association have refused to let the miners work on the operators' terms. Meanwhile this warm weather is doing much to prevent a famine in coal.

The New York police feel confident that they have at last got a clue to the murderer of Nathan. Forrester, a notorious New York criminal, is thought to be the man who committed the heinous crime. Every detective in the country has his description, and it is believed impossible for him to escape detection. A reward of $2,500 has been offered for his capture.

A terrific tornado occurred at St. Louis on Wednesday, during which, houses were blown down, steamers destroyed, bridges carried away, and much other damage was done. Above thirty families were rendered homeless, their houses being entirely destroyed. So far as has been ascertained, seven persons were killed, and between thirty and forty more injured.

Much excitement still prevails at Washington over Mr. Sumner's case. His friends are highly indignant that he should be thus disgraced, while the Republican press at large consider the action uncalled for. It is confidently asserted that the interference of the President in the matter has destroyed all prospects of the San Domingo annexation, and may possibly be the means of bringing Mr. Sumner forward for the presidency in '72.

Among the encouraging features of the times is the Memorial submitted to the Senate Thursday, in favor of disarmament throughout the world and the repeal of the war clauses of the Constitution. When this is accomplished we shall consider the Millenium near at hand.

ABROAD.

The German army has been gradually withdrawing from the French territory and the forts around Paris are now re-occupied by French troops. Much suffering still exists in that city, and the Government is by no means yet on a firm footing. The "Reds" are doing all in their power to make the present management a failure. The Government, however, maintains a conciliatory attitude towards these disturbers. The first letter of Napoleon having had so good an effect he has tried his hand again. This time, he protests against the vote that his dynasty has forfeited the throne, and says the Assembly having been elected only to make peace, they have exceeded their powers.

Victor Hugo has resigned his seat in the Assembly, being enraged at the abuse he received while attempting to defend Garibaldi, whose elections from Algiers has been annulled.

Great preparations are making there for the reception of Emperor William. It is now generally believed that a secret treaty was entered into between Prussia and Russia at the beginning of the war. By this treaty Russia was to stand ready to lend a helping hand the moment she saw Prussia being worsted.

The Gladstone Administration is receiving galling attacks from both Houses of Parliament. In the House of Lords Wednesday evening the foreign policy of the government was severely attacked. In the House of Commons a communication was presented showing a bad state of affairs in Westmeath county, Ireland, and a sharp debate took place on the clause of the new army bill abolishing the purchase of commissions. Lord Lyons was bitterly attacked the other day, by Sir Robert Peel, for abandoning Paris during the siege. During his remarks he praised Mr. Washburne very highly, for sticking to his post.

The English press and people are earnestly discussing the doings of the Joint High Commission now in session at Washington, though none of their doings are yet made public. The Pall Mall Gazette thinks the High Commission will agree to pay a round sum for Alabama claims, leaving distribution to the United States.

The New Loan thrown upon the market by Mr. Boutwell has received but little attention in Europe as yet, there is a prospect though that it will meet with favorable sales. Rothschild has issued a Russian loan of 12,000,000 pounds. The French being in want of all the money that can be attained, and the prospect of a high rate of interest being paid, has damaged the money market for our use.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—While Mr. Robinson P. It is rather a singular coincidence of accidents, that on Saturday last, Deacon Abner Peckham, Mr. Barker's father-in-law, was thrown from his wagon, near the same place, and very badly bruised.

PROMPTLY DONE.—The Fall River News says that the agents of the Peoples Insurance Co., sent the money on Monday to pay their proportion of the loss sustained by the fire of Saturday. BAPTISTS.—The oldest Baptist church in New Jersey has reached the age of 182 years. In 1830 the Baptists had 55 churches in New Jersey, with a membership of 3,967. Since that time 126 new churches have been constituted, and the membership has increased to over 23,802. There was then but 1 Baptist in 80 of the population; there is now 1 in 37. In Pennsylvania there are 19 Baptist associations, embracing 493 churches, with a membership of 57,082. There are 61 churches, mainly Welsh and German, with a membership of 3,040, which are not associated.

WORDS THAT DO NOT WEAR OUT.—The works of man seldom bear close inspection. You may take a needle which is highly polished, and appears to be without the slightest inequality upon the surface, you may put it under a microscope, and you will discover it to be a rough and rusty bar of iron; but take the wing or the foot of an insect, and put this under the lens, you will discover no flaw, magnifying it as much as you will, or gaze at as long as you please. So take the words of man. The first time you hear them they will strike you; you hear them again, and still admire their sentiments; but when often heard, you are weary of them, and you wonder how it was that people could become so infatuated as to quote such feeble words, which by repetition lose all their power. The words of Jesus are the very opposite of this. You may ring the changes upon them, and never exhaust their music; you may think of them, consider them, by day and by night; you may, as it were, put them into a mortar and beat them with a pestle of contemplation, and there will be a fragrance and a perfume all the more discoverable when you have bruised them and brought them down to the very lowest point of criticism.

SALVATION IN SERVICE.—A traveller was crossing a mountain height alone, over almost untrodden snow. Warning had been given him, that if slumber pressed down his weary eyelids, they would inevitably be sealed in death. For a time he went bravely along his dreary path. But with the deepening shade and freezing blast at night, there fell a weight upon his brain and eyes which seemed to be irresistable. In vain he tried to reason with himself, in vain he strained his utmost energies to shake off that fatal heaviness. At this crisis of his fate his foot struck against a heap that lay across his path. No stone was that although no stone could be colder or more lifeless. He stooped to touch it and found a human body, half buried beneath a fresh drift of snow. The next moment the traveller had taken a brother in his arms, and was chafing his hands and chest and brow, breathing upon the stiff, cold lips the warm breath of a living soul; pressing the silent heart of the beating pulse of his own generous bosom. The effort to save another had brought back to himself life and warmth and energy. He was a man again, instead of a weak creature, succombing to despairing helplessness, dropping down in dreamless sleep to die. "He saved a brother and, was saved himself. — English Hearts and English Hands.

shook his head.) "I recollect some thirty years ago you were a great gallant."

"Yes. We have all to go through our little follies, you know."

"And (Miss Lennox you won't feel offended,) Colonel, you know everybody said that if it had not been for our good friend, William Lennox, you would have been married long ago."

The Colonel started, but instantly regained his equanimity.

"Idle tales, people will gossip. But did you ever see such a likeness as Miss Adele bears to her poor mother? Certes, there is some truth in the poet's notion that our dead loves him in the person of their daughters."

"Now, now old boy! Beware of him, Miss Lenox," said Loring, bowing himself out. "Spite of his frosty bow and fifty five years, he is a gay boy yet. Good bye, Hardinge; Mrs Loring hopes to see you soon. She knows a nice young lady of thirty."

"Does she?" laughingly interrupted the Colonel. "Then I'll be sure to come, good bye."

When he had gone, Colonel Hardinge, looking magnetically into Adele's eyes said, in a slow, distinct tone, "Let us resume. Allow me to assist you to a glass of this sherry. No? Well then. When the bills became due, I had to redeem them. Your father had been married by this time, but not a shilling did he finger of his wife's money during her father's life. True, soon afterwards, your father was in a condition to pay all. He became rich. I had gone abroad. Your father wrote to me several times, saying that the money was ready and asking me for the—the forged papers. Shall I show you these letters, Adele?"

"No—yes!" she answered.

A gleam of hope that the whole horrid story was a fabrication brightened her countenance. Alas! a brief perusal of one of them, written as by an honest man overtaken by crime in a moment of helplessness dispelled all hope. The letter dropped from her hand. The Colonel had just time to pick it up when another visitor was announced.

"Miss Lennox—Adele, your father would willingly give half his fortune for the evidence of his guilt," said the Colonel, speaking hurriedly, but every syllable sounding as distinctly as a blow on an anvil. "Their price is your hand," he added in a whisper that seemed to pierce Adele's brain.

Spite of her attempts at self command, Adele had not yet recovered her composure before the new arrival had entered the room, advanced to her side, grasped her hands, and with all the exuberance of youthful spirits making his voice joyous, wished her a happy new year.

He was young and handsome, truth itself beamed from his sparkling eye, and love shone in every feature of his countenance. It needed not the experience of Colonel Hardinge to perceive that he was her lover and his enemy. The Colonel rose, and with a glance of defiance at Clinton Seyton, who looked from the agitated countenance of his betrothed to the stern lineaments of the determined old man, with a mingled expression of astonishment and anger, bowed to Adele, and making his adieu, said in an ordinary tone, "I shall meet your father this afternoon. Doubtless you will approve the arrangement. I shall have the privilege of calling again this evening."

When the last sound of his retreating footsteps had died away, all Adele's courage and composure succumbed to the pressure. Her lover flew to her aid as she seemed about to faint. He was about to call for assistance when she stopped him with a gesture, and signed to the library, whither Clinton supported her.

"My heart is breaking!" she exclaimed as she looked tearlessly into vacancy.—"Deny me to all visitors—any excuse."

Clinton Seyton was astonished. He was about to press her to his heart, when she repelled him with a gesture of terror. He soon knew the whole truth. Anxious as Adele was to hide the disgrace of her father, she could not endure the mingled reproaches and prayers of her lover. Clinton was astonished at first; but as the sang-froid of youth came to his aid, he declared the affair very absurd. The length of time since the crime had been committed, the difficulty of proof, and the improbability of an old man, who had never seen Adele before, being so suddenly resolved on extreme measures,—all inclined Clinton to treat the matter lightly.

Adele was beginning to smile through her tears, when she heard her father enter. Alas! his haggard mien and tottering gait needed no words to explain that he feared the worst.

"You do not know this man, or his history. He is to be feared, either as friend or foe. His intimate acquaintances call him devil; and his acquisition of dangerous knowledge seems to justify the appelation. He has never been known to swerve from his purpose. He saw your likeness two years ago. He said, half in jest, that as I had won the mother, he ought to have the daughter. He has had occasion to write to me on business matters frequently of late, and in each communication he has spoken of you as his love of the second generation. It seems he has seen you at parties, and observed you at places of amusement. For a week, he has brought the utmost pressure to bear on me to give my consent; and at last I had to succumb, conditionally on yours."

"You will never consent, Adele," cried Clinton. "The whole affair is absurd, out of date."

"You know not all. When I mentioned you as an obstacle, he asked if you were Howard Seyton's son; and on my answering that you were, he whistled and laughed, and said that your father was just as much in his power as I."

"Wearily, miserably, the hours flew by. The day passed. Night cast a gloomy veil over the saddened countenance of the hapless ones. For hours they had not spoken a word. The entrance of the servant to light the gas made them start to their feet. Another hour of silent musing. Then a loud knock at the front door, the arrival of one who knows that he comes to conquer and that his victims are securely bound in the toils. They hear the voice in the hall.

"Ah! Miss Lennox indisposed. I would see Mr. Lennox. In that room! No occasion for ceremony, old friend, need not announce me."

And presently he stands before them.

As the snake views the victim he is about to devour, Colonel Hardinge surveys the group.

"A family party! How pleasant! Really enjoyable to a poor waif like me, who has neither child, nor wife, nor home! what think you, Adele?"

What is soft shod caution to the fiery pace of youth.

The insulting innuendo caused Clinton's blood to boil. In an instant he forgot that his own father and his betrothed's father were in this man's power. Starting to his feet he thundered in Colonel Hardinge's ear, "Coward, villian, traitor! speak but an insulting word to this lady, and I will tear your vile tongue from its roots!"

Then, moved by an irrepressible impulse, the young man struck him on the face. Quick as lightning the colonel, pale as a corpse, snatched up a chair.

"Hell and furies!" he thundered, as he raised it to dash at the young man; but ere he could deal the blow, all the blood in the colonel's body seemed to surge into his face, the chair fell from his grasp; and, stumbling and staggering, he tore with both hands at his throat as if suffocating.

"Air, air!" he gasped. "All I have, all I hope for, for one breath!" then fell prone on the carpet.

Mr. Lennox ran for a physician. Adele rushed through the hall, screaming for help. Was it a thought born of good or of evil? Love wastes not time on leaden logic.

Clinton stooped over the prostrate man. He saw a pocket book protruding from his breast pocket. In an instant it was opened, examined, its contents thrown into the library grate, and the book replaced.

"The fangs of the snake are extracted," he said, grimly smiling.

Soon there was a crowd of eager assistants in the room. Had there been unnumbered multitudes, they could not have driven Death from his prey.

Said the physician, dropping the pulseless arm, "Congestion of the brain. Suddenly deaths fearfully common now. All that remains is for the coroner. The man has made his last call."

Mr. Clarke of Providence, presented a joint resolution for adjournment, to meet according to law on Friday, 24th inst.

A motion to lay the resolution on the table, by Mr. Blodget, of North Providence, was lost, and Mr. Sheffield of Newport, moved to amend by providing for the final adjournment on Saturday, 18th. inst.

Considerable discussion ensued, the amendment being opposed on the ground that the business now before the Assembly cannot be properly attended to in one week, the amendment was withdrawn, and the resolution was passed as originally offered.

A motion to suspend the rules to allow the immediate transmission of the resolution to the Senate was objected to, and withdrawn.

Mr. Sheffield, from the committee on the judiciary, reported favorably an act regulating the sale of junk and other second hand articles in the town of Bristol, which was read and passed.

Mr. Bush, of Newport, presented the petition of Thomas F. Doyle, a disabled soldier for leave to peddle without a license, which was referred to the committee on finance.

Mr. Lawton, of North Kingstown, called from the Speaker's table the petition of John G. Saunders for authority to build a marine railway into the waters of Narragansett Bay, and the act granting the prayer of the petitioner was passed in accordance with the recommendation of the committee on the judiciary.

On motion of Mr. Bliss, of East Providence, the rules were suspended to allow the immediate transmission to the Senate of the joint resolution of final adjournment.

Mr. Miner, of Cranston, called up the special order of the day, the prohibitory liquor law.

Mr. Bastow of Providence, argued favorably and at length in favor of the bill. He gave a brief history in favor of the temperance movement, so far as it came under his own observation, and of the different phases of temperance legislation in this State. He took up, one by one, the arguments of Mr. Sheffield agaist the bill, and proceeded to show their fallacy. He regarded the license law as opposed to that higher law which says, "Wo unto him that putteth the cup to his neighbor's lips," and as opposed to the principles of the State Constitution. He claimed that the license law did not restrain the evil; that under it all could obtain what liquor they wished, and it hardly limited the number of liquor sellers, and that the conscience, piety and virtue of the State demanded the repeal of that law. He appealed to the members to vote for the bill, especially the main provision, that repealing the license law. As far as he was concerned, he was willing to try the State Constabulary, for he believed it would greatly add to the efficiency of the law.

At the conclusion of Mr. Barstow's remarks, the House adjourned till Monday morning at eleven o'clock.

An Insalubrious Season.

Spring is welcome, but not its diseases. We should be glad to have its bloom without its fogs, its vapors, its sudden changes of temperature, and the agues, ills of indigestion, bilious attacks, and other harrassing disorders which they engender.—As this cannot be, it behooves all sensible people to do the best they can to escape such serious drawbacks on the poetry of the season. Ask any physician what the weak and delicate ought to do when miasma infects the air. The answer will be, "tone and regulate the system." But how? That is the important question. A dozen medical men would probably recommend as many different medicines.—On the other hand, the thousands who have tested the virtues of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as an invigorant and alterative, will recommend but one, the wholesome preventive and restorative in which their own experience has taught them to trust. A course of this rare vegetable stimulant, commenced now, would save many a pang to the feeble and debilitated. It would be wise economy too, for it would probably preclude the necessity for medical advice. Without disparagement to a profession which all intelligent men and women respect and honor, it is just as well, if possible, to keep out of the doctors' hands, and they would have comparatively few cases of fever and ague, dyspepsia, biliousness, nervousness, and general debility to attend to, if this agreeable and healthful specific were in universal use.

An Old Custom, but a Sensible One! In former years the heads of the household would call up and administer to every member some favorite medicine and tonic, to prevent the diseases that follow the change from the cold winter to the gentle spring. That custom ought to have been handed down from generation to generation, and we now advise its continuance, by the use, as the spring opens, of Roback's celebrated remedies. His Pills, Powder and Bitters will prepare the system for the change.

THE RAPID AND UNIVERSAL POPULARITY OF COLGATE & CO'S TOILET SOAPS, is simply due to their excellence. They are conscientiously made of the best and purest materials, and are always what they pretend to be. Ladies are so often cheated in purchasing, that when they find one thing they can rely upon they stick to it.

☞ We print the advertisement of the American Watch Co. in another column. In addition to the large assortment of watches made by this Company, they desire to call special attention to the Watch for railway engineers, conductors and expressmen.—Also their Boys' Watch, which is now first placed on the market, and to which they desire to call the attention of Young America.

To Employes of Railroads and Steamboats.—In case of any accident to which you are especially liable, such as the Mangling of Flesh, Sprains, Broken Bones, Burned, &c., use BARTONE'S LOTION faithfully as recommended, and you will find it saves much suffering, money and time. SPECIAL NOTICES.

DR. SCHENCK ADVISES CONSUMPTIVES TO GO TO FLORIDA IN WINTER.

Having for the last thirty-five years devoted my whole time and attention to the study of lung diseases and consumption, I feel that I understand fully the course that ought to be pursued to restore a tolerably bad case of diseased lungs to healthy soundness. The first and most important step is for the patient to avoid taking cold; and the best of all places on this continent for this purpose, in winter, is Florida, well down in the State, where the temperature is regular, and not subject to such variations as in more northern latitudes. Palatka is a point I can recommend. A good hotel is kept there by Peterman. Last winter I saw several persons there whose lungs had been badly diseased, but who, under the healing influence of the climate and my medicines, were getting well.

One hundred miles farther down the river is a point which I would prefer to Palatka, as the temperature is more even, and the air dry and bracing. Mellonville and Enterprise are located there. I should give a decided preference to Mellonville; it is two miles from river or lake, and it seems almost impossible to take cold there. The tables in Florida might be better, and patients complain at times; but that is a good sign, as it indicates a return of appetite; and, when this is the case, they generally increase in flesh, and then the lungs must heal.

Jacksonville, Hibernia, Green Cove, and many other places in various parts of Florida, can be safely recommended to consumptives in winter. My reasons for saying so are, that patients are less liable to take cold there than where there is a less even temperature; and it is not necessary to say, that, where a consumptive person exposes himself to frequent colds, he is certain to die shortly: therefore my advice is, go well down into the State, out of the reach of prevailing east winds and fogs. Jacksonville, or almost any other of the localities I have named, will benefit those who are troubled with a torpid liver, a disordered stomach, deranged bowels, sore throat, or cough; but, for those whose lungs are diseased, a more southern point is earnestly recommended.

For fifteen years prior to 1869, I was professionally in New York, Boston, Baltimore, and Philadelphia every week, where I saw and examined on an average five hundred patients a week. A practice so extensive, embracing every possible phase of lung disease, has enabled me to understand the disease fully; and hence my caution in regard to taking cold. A person may take vast quantities of "Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Seaweed Tonic, and Mandrake Pills," and yet die if he does not avoid taking cold.

In Florida, nearly everybody is using Schenck's Mandrake Pills; for the climate is more likely to produce bilious habits than more northern latitudes. It is a well-established fact, that natives of Florida rarely die of consumption, especially those of the southern part. On the other hand, in New England, one-third at least of the population die of this terrible disease. In the Middle States, it does not prevail so largely; still there are many thousands of cases there. What a vast percentage of life would be saved if consumptives were as easily alarmed in regard to taking fresh colds as they are about scarlet fever, small-pox, &c.! But they are not: they take what they term a little cold, which they are credulous enough to believe will wear off in a few days. They pay no attention to it, and hence it lays the foundation for another and another still, until the lungs are diseased beyond all hope of cure.

My advice to persons whose lungs are affected, even slightly, is to lay in a stock of Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic, and Schenck's Mandrake Pills, and go to Florida. I recommend these particular medicines, because I am thoroughly acquainted with their action. I know, that, where they are used in strict accordance with my directions, they will do the work that is required. This accomplished, nature will do the rest. The physician who prescribes for cold, cough, or night-sweats, and then advises the patient to walk or ride out every day, will be sure to have a corpse on his hands before long.

My plan is, to give my three medicines in accordance with the printed directions, except in some cases where a freer use of the Mandrake Pills is necessary. My object is, to give tone to the stomach,—to get up a good appetite. It is always a good sign when a patient begins to grow hungry: I have hopes of such. With a relish for food, and the gratification of that relish, comes good blood, and with it more flesh, which is closely followed by a healing of the lungs,—then the cough loosens and abates, the creeping chills and clammy night sweats no longer prostrate and annoy, and the patient gets well, provided he avoids taking cold.

Now, there are many consumptives who have not the means to go to Florida. The question may be asked, Is there no hope for such? Certainly there is. My advice to such is, and ever has been, to stay in a warm room during the winter, with a temperature of about seventy degrees, which should be kept regularly at that point by means of a thermometer. Let such a patient take his exercise within the limits of the room by walking up and down as much as his strength will permit, in order to keep up a healthy circulation of the blood. I have cured thousands by this system, and can do so again. Consumption is as easily cured as any other disease, if it is taken in time, and the proper kind of treatment is pursued. The fact stands undisputed on record, that Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup, Mandrake Pills, and Seaweed Tonic have cured very many of what seemed to be hopeless cases of consumption. Go where you will, you will be almost certain to find some poor consumptive who has been rescued from the very jaws of death by their use.

So far as the Mandrake Pills are concerned, everybody should keep a supply of them on hand. They act on the liver better than calomel, and leave none of its hurtful effects behind. In fact, they are excellent in all cases where a purgative medicine is required. If you have partaken too freely of fruit, and diarrhœa ensues, a dose of the Mandrakes will cure you. If you are subject to sick headache, take a dose of the Mandrakes, and they will relieve you in two hours. If you would obviate the effect of a change of water, or the too free indulgence in fruit, take one of the Mandrakes every night, and you may then drink water, and eat water-melons, pears, apples, plums, peaches, or corn, without the risk of being made sick by them. They will protect those who live in damp situations against chills and fevers. Try them. They are perfectly harmless. They can do you good only.

I have abandoned my professional visits to Boston and New York, but continue to see patients at my office No. 15 North Sixth Street, Philadelphia, every Saturday, from 9, A.M., to 3, P.M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged five dollars. The Respirometer declares the exact condition of the lungs; and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not. But I desire it distinctly understood, that the value of my medicines depends entirely upon their being taken strictly according to directions.

In conclusion, I will say, that when persons take my medicines, and their systems are brought into a healthy condition thereby, they are not so liable to take cold; yet no one with diseased lungs can bear a sudden change of atmosphere without the liability of greater or less irritation of the bronchial tubes.

Full directions in all languages accompany my medicines, so explicit and clear that any one can use them without consulting me, and can be bought from any druggist.

FROM WASHINGTON.

ANOTHER REPUBLICAN SENATORIAL CAUCUS.

MR. SUMNER GAINING.

WASHINGTON, March 10.

The Senate Republican Caucus met again this morning. Mr. Hitt of Georgia, made a motion to reconsider the action of the caucus yesterday with regard to Mr. Sumner. The President's friends protested against any action changing what had been done yesterday.

By a vote of 21 to 23 the caucus refused to reconsider its action displacing Mr. Sumner from the Chairmanship of the Committee on Foreign Relations.

Mr. Sumner's friends of yesterday all stood firm, while it will be seen by the vote that three of the President's friends backed on him.

The truth is, all parties concerned are now heartily ashamed of this action, and but for the outside pressure brought to bear upon the Senate by the Administration, the whole action would be reversed.

The President is still determined in his hostility to Mr. Sumner, and will not allow his friends to let up on him.

The President's friends in caucus, to-day, who did not vote, were Hamlin and Kellogg. Frye of Indiana went over to Sumner.

Two of Mr. Sumner's friends were absent, otherwise the vote would have been a tie.

Mr. Sumner continues to receive telegrams and letters from all quarters, denouncing the action of the caucus and protesting against the indignity which the President and his friends seek to put upon him.

Gen. Butler is busy preparing his report to be submitted to the Republican House Caucus tonight.

The difficulty among Republicans is to agree to a measure for the South. There seems to be a wide diversity of opinion as to what should be passed.

REMOVAL OF SENATOR SUMNER.

INDIGNATION OF THE NEW YORK PRESS.

SAN DOMINGO SCHEME PROBABLY KILLED.

THE NEW LOAN, ETC.

NEW YORK, March 10.

The general expression of opinion here among the Republicans is that Senator Sumner's removal will make him the next candidate for the Presidency, and effectually kills the San Domingo scheme.

The Tribune says: "He has earned the trust and love of the American people, and could have been spared this indignity."

The Sun heads its editorial, "The Nation Humiliated."

The Herald says it bodes mischief to the Republican party.

The World gloats over what it heads "Grant's Victory," and says it sounds the death-knell of party of all men now in public life. Sumner has done the most to build up and consolidate the Republican party, and now at the dictation of a man who never joined the party till he hoped to be its candidate for President, Sumner is insulted, humiliated and turned out of a position for which he is better qualified by knowledge and experience than any other member of the Senate.

The Times is silent.

The Tribune's Washington advices say it is now agreed on all hands that there is no longer any hope for the success of the Santo Domingo annexation project. The Senate is composed of seventy-four members, so that it will take fifty votes to constitute two-thirds. The Republican strength is fifty-seven and the Democratic is seventeen.

All the Democratic Senators except Mr. Blair are opposed to annexation. It will therefore only be necessary that nine Republicans shall vote with the sixteen Democrats to defeat the confirmation of the annexation treaty, and more than that number declare in positive terms that they are opposed to annexation in any form, and that they will vote against it from first to last.

It is certain that all of the twenty-one Senators who opposed the removal of Mr. Sumner from his chairmanship will oppose annexation, yet all but five or six make no secret of their opposition.

Returns from the town elections so far held in New York show very gratifying Republican gains.

The Bavarian Elections.

Spanish-Cuban Reports,

HEAVY RAINS IN GEORGIA.

NEW YORK, March 10.

Consul-General Poising, of the North German Confederation, publishes a card denying yesterday's cable despatch about the Bavarian election. He says no elections have taken place for the Bavarian Chambers, which, after having by their representatives adopted the federal treaties by a vote of 102 against 43 on the 21st of January, have adjourned. The upper house having passed those treaties before, almost unanimously, the formal ratifications were exchanged immediately between the respective Governments.

A Spanish official report from the Cuban Central Department announces that fifty-two insurgents had been killed during the past fifteen days, and that 4316 persons, of all ages, sexes and colors, had surrendered to the Spaniards.

THE

WITH THE

CHAMPION CHIMNEY,

The Best Burner and Chimney ever put upon the market.

This Burner having an EXTINGUISHER attached, by the touching of a small lever in the side of the Burner the light is instantly extinguished, thus doing away with the old method of blowing down the chimney and endangering the lives of your family and friends by an explosion—as nine-tenths of all the Kerosene accidents in the United States have been caused by blowing down the chimney. It is also a SELF-EXTINGUISHER, as there is no possible way in which this Lamp can fall that it does not put itself out—so that there can be no fire, even if the lamp should be broken and the oil spilled.

It is supplied with a GAS TUBE, to allow the vapor and gas that may be formed in the lamp to escape, thus rendering EVERY LAMP NON-EXPLOSIVE, in all hands and under all circumstances.

The Chimney, of itself, is worth all we ask for the whole, as it is warranted not to break while in use upon the Lamp. Neither hot or cold air affects it.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

The Great Farmer of Illinois.

The following statistics of the immense farms of Mr. John T. Alexander, the great farmer and stock dealer of Morgan County Ill., will be found highly interesting. Number of acres of improved lands on his farms, 81,000; total number of acres of unimproved lands, 300; total number of acres of land, 81,300. Aggregate value of lands, $1,685,000; value of implements in use on his farms, $50,000; amount paid for wages during the past year to hands employed on his farms, $76,800. Number of live stock on his farms, 90 mules, 60 cows, 160 horses, 200 oxen, and 7,000 other cattle, and 700 hogs. Total value of live stock, $536,950. Product of his farms in 1869, 277,500 bushels corn, 7,000 bushels wheat, 8,000 bushels oats, 2,000 bushels rye, 1,000 bushels potatoes, 3,000 tuns hay. Value of animals sold on his farms during the past year, $493,400. Mr. Alexander has two farms—one of near 8,000 acres, in Morgan County, twelve miles east of Jacksonville, upon which he resides; and the other of about 27,000 acres, in Champaign County, Illinois. In addition to his vast business as a farmer, Mr. Alexander buys, ships and sells to dealers over 50,000 head of cattle annually.

Asparagus.

Who is without an asparagus bed? We have one which must have been in bearing for more than thirty years. We have cropped it for sixteen years, and it seems to grow better and better. It is about twenty feet square, and it yields a sufficient supply for our own family and that of two or three neighbors. We like the way it is prepared at home far better than any that we have ever eaten elsewhere. It is chopped short, and cooked in milk. It then has the tenderness of young peas. The long, white portion of the stalk is tough and useless. Cut it when from one to two inches above the ground. A plat of the size above described will afford abundance for a large family for three months. Put out a bed of it. It is equal to green peas, and much earlier.—Prarie Farmer.

Preservation of Beet Leaves for Fodder.

It is well known that in France the beet is cultivated on a large scale, mainly for the preparation of beet sugar, and that the leaves are used very largely as food for cattle. A difficulty has hitherto existed in reference to this latter application, on account of the readiness with which the leaves become decomposed and the impossibility of keeping them fresh for any considerable length of time. We are now informed that this has been overcome by M. Mehay, who subjects the leaves to the action of dilute hydrochloric acid, by means of which, after undergoing a special treatment, they can be stacked away in large quantities and kept indefinitely for future use. The application of the acid employed, so far from injuring these leaves as food, seems to impart to them special alimentary peculiarities, seen in the production of an improved quality of butter. Several veterinary surgeons have certified, as the result of a critical examination of the experiments, that the food gave rise to no disturbance of the digestive system, and that in every respect the new preparation was to be considered a success.

BOTH SEXES, SINGLE OR MARRIED.
DR. L. DIX'S
PRIVATE MEDICAL OFFICE,
No. 21 Endicott Street, Boston, Mass.,

is so arranged that patients never see or hear each other. Recollect the ONLY entrance to his Office is No. 21, having no connection with his residence, consequently no family interruption, so that on no account can any person hesitate applying at his office.

boldly asserts (and it cannot be contradicted, except by Quacks, who will do or say anything, even perjure themselves, to impose upon patients) that he is the only regular graduate physician advertising in Boston.

TWENTY YEARS

engaged in treatment of Special Diseases, a fact so well known to many Citizens, Publishers, Merchants, Hotel Proprietors, &c., that he is much recommended, and particularly to Strangers and Travelers.

To avoid and escape imposition of Foreign and Native Quacks, more numerous in Boston than other large cities.

DR. L. DIX

proudly refers to Professors and respectable Physicians—many of whom consult him in critical cases, because of his acknowledged skill and reputation, attained through so long experience, practice and observation.

AFFLICTED AND UNFORTUNATE!

be not robbed and add to your sufferings in being deceived by the lying boasts, misrepresentations, false promises and pretensions of

who know little of the nature and character of Special Diseases, and less as to their cure. Some exhibit forged Diplomas of Institutions or Colleges which never existed in any part of the world; others exhibit Diplomas of the Dead, how obtained, unknown; not only assuming and advertising in names of those inserted in the Diplomas, but to further their imposition assume names of other most celebrated Physicians long since dead. Neither be deceived by through false certificates and references, and recommendations of their medicines BY THE DEAD, who cannot expose or contradict them; or who, besides, to further their imposition, copy from Medical books much that is written of the qualities and effects of different herbs and plants, and ascribe all the same to their Pills, Extracts, Specifics, &c., most of which, if not all, contain Mercury, because of the ancient belief of its "curing everything," but now known to "kill more than it cures," and those not killed, constitutionally injured for life.

IGNORANCE OF QUACK DOCTORS AND NOSTRUM MAKERS.

Through the ignorance of the Quack Doctor, knowing no other remedy, he relies upon MERCURY, and gives it to all his patients in Pills, Drops, &c., so the Nostrum Maker, equally ignorant, adds to his so-called Extracts, Specific, Antidote, &c., both relying upon its effects in curing a few in a hundred, it is trumpeted in various ways throughout the land; but, ALAS! nothing is said of the balance; some of whom die, others grow worse, and are left to linger and suffer for months, or years until relieved or cured, if possible, by competent physicians.

BUT ALL QUACKS ARE NOT IGNORANT.

Notwithstanding the foregoing facts are known to some Quack Doctors and Nostrum Makers, yet, regardless of the life and health of others, there are those among them who will perjure themselves, contradicting giving mercury to their patients or that it is contained in their Nostrums, so that the "usual fee" may be obtained for professedly curing, or "the dollar" or "fraction of it" may be obtained for the Nostrum. It is thus that many are deceived also, and uselessly spend large amounts for experiments with quackery.

charges are very moderate. Communications sacredly confidential, and all may rely on him with the strictest secrecy and confidence, whatever may be the disease, condition or situation of any one, married or single.

Medicines sent by Mail and Express to all parts of the United States.

TO THE LADIES.—The celebrated DR. L. DIX particularly invites all ladies who need a Medical or Surgical adviser, to call at his Rooms, No. 21 Endicott Street, Boston, Mass., which they will find arranged for their special accommodation.

Dr. DIX having devoted over twenty years to this particular branch of the treatment of all diseases peculiar to females, it is now conceded by all (both in this country and in Europe) that he excels all other known practitioners in the safe, speedy and effectual treatment of all female complaints.

His medicines are prepared with the express purpose of removing all diseases, such as debility, weakness, unnatural suppressions, enlargements of the womb, also all discharges which flow from a morbid state of the blood. The Doctor is now fully prepared to treat in his peculiar style, both medically and surgically, all diseases of the female sex, and they are respectfully invited to call at

WATER'S

New Scale Pianos,

With Iron Frame, Overstrung Bass and Agraffe Bridge,

MELODEONS AND CABINET ORGANS,

The best Manufactured: Warranted for 6 years.

Fifty New and Second-hand Pianos, Melodeons and Organs of six first-class makers, at low prices for Cash, or, one-third cash and the balance in Monthly Instalments. Second-hand instruments at great bargains. Illustrated Catalogue mailed.—Warerooms, 481 Broadway, New York.

HORACE WATERS.

TESTIMONIALS.

The Waters' Pianos are known as among the very best.—N. Y. Evangelist.

We can speak of the merits of the Waters' Pianos from personal knowledge as being of the very best quality.—Christian Intelligencer.

The Waters' Pianos are built of the best and most thoroughly seasoned material.—Advocate and Journal.

Our friends will find at Mr. Waters' store the very best assortment of Pianos, Melodeons and Organs to be found in the United States.—Graham's Magazine.

MUSICAL DOINGS.—Since Mr. Waters gave up publishing sheet Music, he has devoted his whole capital and attention to the manufacture and sale of Pianos and Melodeons. He has just issued a catalogue of his new instruments, giving a new scale of prices, which shows a marked reduction from former rates, and his Pianos have recently been awarded the First Premium at several Fairs. Many people of the present day, who are attracted, if not confused, with the flaming advertisements of rival piano houses, probably overlook the modest manufacturer like Mr. Waters; but we happen to know that his instruments earned him a good reputation long before Expositions and "honors" connected therewith were ever thought of; indeed, we have one of Mr. Waters' Pianofortes now in our residence (where it has stood for years), of which any manufacturer in the world might well be proud. We have always been delighted with it as a sweet toned and powerful instrument, and there is no doubt of its durability; more than this, some of the best amateur players in the city, as well as several celebrated pianists, have performed on the same piano, and all pronounce it a superior and first-class instrument. Stronger endorsement we could not give.—Home Journal.

Look Well to Your Insurance!

The possession of a Policy does not always protect a property holder against loss by fire. The subscriber is prepared to issue Policies in Companies that for more than have been known to the public as honorable and reliable. One of his Companies is the oldest in the United States and has paid $24,000,000 in losses.—Another has the largest capital, and has paid over $25,000,000. These two, together, have more cash assets with which to pay losses than any ten average companies. Their rates are as low as safety, and honorable dealing will allow, but they do not pretend to compete with "Wild Cat" Corporation.

FIRST MORTGAGE

7 Per Cent. Gold Bonds,

On a Completed Road,

FREE OF U. S. TAX,

AT 90 AND ACCRUED INTEREST IN CURRENCY.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Railway.

The completion of this Road has given to these bonds an established character equal to any outstanding issue dealt in at the Stock Exchange. We are prepared to buy and sell them at any time, at our Banking House, at market price—thus placing them on the same basis, for temporary or permanent investment, with Government or any other security.

These bonds are a first and only mortgage on a railroad that has cost double the amount of the issue, and which commands, without competition, all the traffic of Northern Iowa and Southern Minnesota—shortening the distance from St. Paul to Chicago 45 miles, and to St. Louis more than 90 miles.

The net earnings are already largely in excess of interest on the bonds, and no doubt exists that they will more than double within the ensuing year.

A contract has been secured with the Chicago, Burlington and Quincey Railroad Company obligating the latter to invest 50 per cent. of gross earnings derived from traffic with the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Minnesota Road in the bonds of this Company. This arrangement is a strong guarantee of the Bonds, and establishes a large sinking fund for their redemption.

The convertibility privilege in these bonds enables them to be exchanged for stock, at par, at any time. This secures to the holder, at his option, a share in any excess of earnings over the interest obligation.

An exchange of Government securities for these bonds returns 2 1-2 per cent. interest, instead of 5 per cent., which is all that Governments pay at present price, besides leaving an immediate gain of about 20 per cent. in price for reinvestment.

All marketable securities taken in exchange free of commission and Express charges.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY

SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,

For Inventions, Trade Marks, or Designs,

No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St. Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

CHARLES MASON Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a man more competent and trustworthy and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"MR. R. H. EDDY has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

NEW 7-30 GOLD LOAN!

Safe! Profitable! Permanent!

JAY COOKE & CO.

Offer for Sale at Par and Accrued Interest the

First Mortgage Land Grant Gold Bonds

OF THE Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

THESE bonds are secured, first, by a First Mortgage on the Railroad itself, its rolling-stock, and all equipments; second, by a First Mortgage on its entire Land Grant, being more than Twenty-Two Thousand Acres of Land to each mile of Road.

The Bonds are free from United States Tax; the Principal and Interest are payable in Gold—the Principal at the end of Thirty years, and the Interest Semi-annually, at the rate of SEVEN AND THREE-TENTHS PER CENT. per annum.

They are issued in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Trustees under the Mortgage are Messrs. Jay Cooke, of Philadelphia, and Edgar Thomson, President of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company.

These Northern Pacific 7-30 Bonds will at all times before maturity, be received AT TEN PER CENT. PREMIUM (or 1.10), in exchange for the Company's lands at their lowest cash price.

In addition to their absolute safety, these Bonds yield an income larger, we believe, than any other first class security. Persons holding United States 5-20's can, by converting them into Northern Pacifics, increase their yearly income one-third and still have a perfectly reliable investment.

HOW TO GET THEM.—Your nearest Bank or Banker will supply these Bonds in any desired amount, and of any needed denomination. Persons wishing to exchange stocks or other bonds for these, can do so with any of our Agents, who will allow the highest current price for ALL MARKETABLE SECURITIES.

Those living in localities remote from Banks, may send money, or other bonds, directly to us by express, and we will send back Northern Pacific Bonds at our own risk, and without cost to the investor.—For further information, pamphlets, maps, etc, call on or address the undersigned, or any of the Banks or Bankers employed to sell this Loan.
